dear friend,

we've redefined the very notion of humane

When we see lives transformed, when we see unconditional love and companionship, when we see the happiness and healing pets bring to so many – we can't imagine life without them.

As we reflect upon our long history and think about the countless sick, injured and abused animals we have helped over the years with your support – our tails wag proudly.

The lifesaving efforts of our doctors, our Emergency Animal Medical Technicians™, volunteers and staff have never wavered. We have seen things we wish we could un-see. But these atrocities have only strengthened our conviction and deepened our compassion.

In our renewed efforts to save more animals than ever before, we looked ahead to the problems of tomorrow. We introduced new lifesaving programs and initiatives. We were able to increase the number of pets we save every year by staggering numbers. We reduced animal intake. We became a leading animal welfare organization by demonstrating, time and time again, the lengths we go to save animals. And over the past six years, thanks to the support of animal lovers like you, we have reduced euthanasia by a staggering 81 percent and saved an additional 100,000 lives.

We've redefined the very notion of the word "humane."

We are not the same Arizona Humane Society® we were, and we should not tether our future to old buildings and outdated perceptions. As we embark on a new era and push for more change, we must be bold. We must be innovative. And that means replacing our deteriorating and inadequate Sunnyslope facility with a centrally located, state-of-the-art campus to complement the existing and successful Nina Mason Pulliam Campus for Compassion. This is a critical and necessary step to transform our community into one of the best places to be a pet.

In the following pages, you'll see how your donations were put to work last year and we hope you feel happy and proud. We must do more and save more as best we can until our new campus is complete – you make that possible with every gift and we are so grateful.

With your continued support, we can continue saving the most vulnerable animals and enriching the lives of pets and people.

And in our excitement, we must not forget to give our furry friends extra big hugs and kisses, too.

Because the future is looking even brighter for pets, thanks to you.

Sincerely,

Dr. Steven R. Hansen

ahs led efforts to pass a new law ensuring animal abusers will face stronger penalties in the worst cases of abuse – the ones where abusers intentionally and knowingly inflict cruel mistreatment. Animal cruelty charges were increased from a Class 6 to Class 5 felony, meaning these cases can no longer be dropped to a misdemeanor and also include the possibility of jail time and supervised probation/treatment.

still standing

Arriving on scene, our Emergency Animal Medical Technician™ discovered a gravely injured Coonhound. His body was bloated and the EAMT described him as being “completely soaked in blood.” Chest and abdominal X-rays revealed the hound had suffered three 1.5-centimeter lacerations to his neck, one of which was suspected to have torn his trachea. His owner claimed to have “stabbed and killed him” because he was “terrorizing” the neighborhood. Little did he know that Copper was fighting for his life in AHS’ Second Chance Animal Trauma Hospital™. Copper’s recovery was touch-and-go for several weeks, the low point being paralysis of his right side. Yet, we never gave up on him. And through rehab, love and a dose of willpower, Copper recovered and was quickly adopted. Copper’s rescue and recovery is the reason we advocate for stronger laws to protect pets and we partner with law enforcement to conduct thousands of cruelty investigations to seek justice for abused animals.

sitting, wishing, waiting

Gus was turned in to the Arizona Humane Society® as an injured stray. During his stray hold, no one ever came forward for the 12-year-old Australian Shepherd mix. His 94-pound frame and fluffiness alone were enough to draw people to him, but Gus didn't exactly feel the same way about the people he would meet. Over time, he became accustomed to living at AHS, so much so, that he became one of the tour stops. Yet for anyone interested in meeting Gus, they would have to do so on multiple occasions in the hopes that he would warm up to them. It wasn't that Gus was aggressive, he was just very nervous around new people. Yet, we always knew that the perfect family was out there, and six visits and 276 consecutive days later, Gus was adopted and there was not a dry eye in the shelter. Our Ethical No-Kill Philosophy ensures that pets like Gus are never euthanized for space or length of time.

the campaign to transform animal welfare

Imagine a community where no animal suffers on the streets. Where animal homelessness and abuse are combatted with leading-edge strategy and technology, hand-in-hand with concerned citizens and animal advocates.

Imagine a safe haven where severely injured and abused animals receive state-of-the-art medical and behavior rehabilitation interventions scarcely thinkable today.

If you can imagine such a world, you will recognize the goals of the Arizona Humane Society*: a vision of supportive services for animals built on the accomplishments of the nation’s most innovative and responsive humane society.

Care for Maricopa County’s animals – and beyond

The system we’ve launched to control pet overpopulation and save our community’s most vulnerable animals, including proactive spay/neuter initiatives and programs to keep pets in loving homes, allows us to focus on comprehensive rescue, medical and behavioral care for those animals who need it most, at a level not yet seen in the United States.

Together, we can accomplish what was historically considered impossible: rescuing and healing those who were needlessly euthanized before. And we’re well on our way. To date, we’ve raised $11.5 million toward our $28 million goal.

Includes $10.5 million in individual donations, $3 million in cash reserves paid for land, $11 million in cash reserves earmarked and $1 million in construction in-kind.

We are limited not by vision nor determination, but by our facilities. This system of care requires our 63-year-old Sunnyslope facility to be replaced. We’ve initiated a capital campaign to build a new, centrally located campus, anchored by a regionally-serving Animal Medical Center. A project of this scope and scale will cost $43 million. AHS has committed $14 million to the project from reserves acting as endowment, we anticipate $1 million in-kind from our construction partner, and we need to raise $28 million. The Central Campus & Animal Medical Center will allow us to:

- Enhance rescue efforts and expand reach on cruelty investigations.
- Perform medical and surgical services for injured animals.
- Expand behavior rehabilitation for the most traumatized animals.
- Build advanced intensive care units to isolate and care for animals with contagious diseases.
- Create a healthy environment for animals in our care by providing advanced “Standards of Care” as set forth by the Association of Shelter Veterinarians.

adelaide's safety net

Adorable Adelaide was rescued by one of our Emergency Animal Medical Technicians™ when she was found as a stray with injuries to her unique ears, which now healed, only add to her charm. She was also found to have almost no teeth and was in need of dental surgery. While in the care of AHS' Second Chance Animal Trauma Hospital™, our medical team realized poor Adelaide was also suffering from anemia. This sweet cat had a rough go of it through her first 10 years of life, but we eventually found Adelaide a loving home. AHS has become a safety net for the Valley's most vulnerable pets like Adelaide. Our comprehensive medical, behavioral rehabilitation, surrender intervention and spay/neuter initiatives saved an additional 100,000 lives over the last six years.

brave lil' fighter

When a Good Samaritan rushed Mocha, who was in heat distress with a body temperature of 106 degrees, to the Arizona Humane Society® after a severe dog attack, her prognosis was extremely poor. Flaps of skin hung from her little seven-pound frame, her body was riddled with puncture wounds, and her jaw was broken in multiple places. Immediate treatment for shock and heat stress began in AHS' Second Chance Animal Trauma Hospital™. Over the next several weeks, various procedures to clean out her wounds, as well as surgeries to repair her neck and jaw, took place. Each week, daily honey bandages and low-level laser therapy were administered to help speed up the healing process. Once stable, the sweet girl finished her recovery in a loving Foster Hero home and was eventually reunited with her owner. Our trauma hospital and ICUs save the lives of severely injured pets like Mocha who are routinely euthanized in shelters.

Five-year-old Lily was first diagnosed with brain cancer in 2014. When her family had to go to New York City for a medical trial, they had no one to help care for their beloved dog, Maui, who was given to Lily as a companion. Desperate for help, they found out about AHS' Project Assist program that provides foster care for the pets of individuals who are hospitalized or in an emergency situation. Shortly after the trial began, Lily relapsed, extending both the family's stay in New York City and Maui's stay with AHS Foster Hero, Erica. Eight months later, Lily's scans came back clean and the Diaz family was reunited with their beloved dog. We can't do our work alone, and we rely on our Foster Heroes to greatly increase our capacity. Our Foster Heroes and collaboration with partner organizations help us place pets in foster, rescue and permanent homes, reunite lost pets with their families, and reduce unnecessary euthanasia by taking in animals from overloaded shelters.

lifetime giving

The Arizona Humane Society® exists today because, in 1957, people cared enough to create an organization to protect the animals we love. It was a volunteer and community effort that grew over time. The story of AHS is the story of volunteers and private donors who saw a need and came together to create the solution. Lifetime Giving honors those individuals, families and foundations whose philanthropy created and sustains AHS. Beginning this year, we will publish an Honor Roll of Lifetime Giving to recognize cumulative gifts of $100,000 and more.

*Indicates gift has been realized

circle of friends

In 2007, Arizona Humane Society® supporters Heather Greenbaum and Julie Belgrad organized a dedicated group of donors to raise funds specifically for spay/neuter initiatives. Coined The Nifty Fifty in 2007 and later Circle of Friends, these passionate donors have made possible the spay/neuter surgeries of tens of thousands of animals and have undoubtedly reduced pet overpopulation in our community. The Circle of Friends is celebrated each year at Compassion with Fashion.
